DRIVE OPENED
BY MOTOR CLUBBegins Mobilization of
Auto Owners In War
On AccidentsMEMBERS ASKED
TO SIGN PLEDGECards to Be Distributed
In Factories and Filling Stations

The Columbiana County Motor club today began the mobilization of county automobile drivers in a war on traffic accidents.

The campaign will be conducted along the line of voluntary assistance from the drivers themselves who will become members of a "Safe Drivers" club pledged to think of the safety of others and themselves while on the highways.

A. E. Beardmore, president of the motor club, said today that pledge cards and windshield stickers will be distributed in factories, garages, service stations and elsewhere. Those who sign the pledge of safe driving will become members of the Star Safety club and be given windshield stickers.

Plan Safety Committees

"We hope to enroll as many drivers as possible in this campaign," Beardmore said. "The very fact that a motorist signs the safety pledge is an indication of his desire to help reduce accidents and the presence of the club insignia on the windshield of his car will be a constant reminder to be careful."

Safety committees will be appointed in each of the cities and communities of the county.

Beardmore today announced the following committee for Salem: J. G. Smith, automobile dealer; W. R. Crisberry, gasoline distributor; Paul Covert, Mullins Manufacturing Corp.; George Loefer, Electric Furnace Co.; Phil Lieder, National Sanitary Co.; Floyd McKee, Salem China Co.; E. S. Dawson, the Deming Co.; Paul Holwick, the Bliss Co.; Carl F. Willman, Kiwanis club; H. C. Hurlburt, Rotary club; Miss Ruth Hoch, Quota club; Mrs. Charles Votaw, Garden club; Mrs. George Votaw Book club; Mrs. Guy Byers, Travelers club; Francis J. Wise, The Salem News; Paul S. Kerr, superintendent of schools; Mayor George Harroff, Chief of Police Ralph Stoffer; Rev. George D. Keister, Ministerial association.

Club Members' Obligation

When a motorist becomes a member of the Star club of safe drivers, he pledges himself to drive carefully at all times.

Observe traffic signs and signals and familiarize himself with traffic laws to the best of his ability.

Cross streets only at crossings or designated cross walks, and when driving, observe the rights and safety of others who are walking.

Keep his car in a safe condition. Be particularly watchful of children.

Use his horn as sparingly as possible so as to cause as little annoyance and confusion as possible.

Cooperate in maintaining those safe driving practices which contribute to the public safety.

Leetonian Is Fined
On Traffic Charge

Donald McLane of R. D. 1, Leetonia, arrested by police early Thursday morning on a charge of driving while intoxicated, pleaded guilty before Mayor George Harroff yesterday afternoon and was fined $100 and costs.

The mayor also suspended the Leetonian's driving license for six months.

Police arrested Scott Reynolds of Charlottesville, Va., here yesterday on a charge of forgery. He is charged by police to have cashed a check for $12.50 at the J. C. Penny Co. store.

He pleaded guilty when arraigned before the mayor this afternoon and was bound over to the grand jury under $2,000 bond.

Their Names Mentioned In Talk of Third Party

Coalition of the Coughlin-Townsend-Smith forces into a third party movement aroused speculation as to who would be the candidates put forward by the new political union. The attack of Congressman Martin L. Sweeney of Cleveland, insurgent Democrat, on the New Deal lent credence to reports that he might be placed on the ticket as vice president. Congressman William T. Lemke of North Dakota, appeared likely of being the presidential nominee. Meanwhile the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Detroit's radio priest; Dr. Francis E. Townsend, author of the old age pension plan, and Rev. Gerald K. Smith, share-the-wealth advocate, proceeded with plans for aligning their forces.

Government Checks
Awaited Here

Salem veterans have cashed in on their bonus bonds to the extent of approximately $80,000. Postmaster Earl Beardmore estimated today.

Beardmore and postal aids were kept busy for several days this week certifying the bonds for payment but the rush today had tapered off. Approximately 200 veterans are now awaiting government checks.

In addition to their bonds, each worth $50, veterans received checks for varying sums less than the $50 bond denomination. Accurate figures are not available on the amount of cash immediately collected by the veterans.

Many Salem veterans have signified their intention of holding their bonds. Others have said they are going to invest their money from the bonds in real estate, automobiles, repairs to their homes, payment of back bills, etc.

The majority of local veterans received their bonds Monday morning. Others called for them the same evening. A small group of ex-service men have not yet received their bonds but Beardmore said he expected them in the mails soon.

HIT BY LONDONHint of Campaign Argument Is Seen In Nominée's Letter To Veteran Teacher

WASHINGTON, June 19.—A statement by Gov. Alf M. Landon that "forces alien to our American form of government seek to destroy our country" gave a possible indication today of one campaign argument to be used by the Landon forces.

Observers here noted that, in a telegram congratulating Mrs. Eleanor Gridley, Chicago school teacher on her 90th birthday, the Republican presidential nominee said:

"In this greatest crisis since the Civil war, when forces alien to our American form of government seek to destroy our country, I am happy for the opportunity to acknowledge through you our debt to the men and women teachers who today are unselfishly striving to keep alive the spirit of real Americanism among our children."

While Republican National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton was in New York making new claims of a big victory in November, National Treasurer Charles B. Goodspeed busied himself in Chicago on a forthcoming drive to raise a $3,000,000 campaign fund.

The relief bill, through the unsuccessful $2,000,000 amendment, became embroiled in renewed controversy over Gov. Martin L. Davey's proposal to exempt food purchased for home consumption from the three per cent retail sales tax.

When Rep. John T. De Righter (D-Cuyahoga) introduced the amendment, Republican Leader William M. McCulloch asked if the funds would be available and if approval of Davey's proposal would reduce them.

De Righter and House Finance Chairman Julian H. Schweller (D-Putnam) said there would be a balance that size in the general fund at the end of the year, Schweller adding that the sales tax did not enter into the relief question.

But Rep. Ed R. King (R-Vinton) said the finance director and the only available funds for McCulloch declared that repeal of the food sales tax might force the state relief commission "to give rubber checks for the extra $2,000,000."

SALINEVILLE, June 19.—Believed victim of a fall, Mrs. Mary Scarrey, 52, wife of William Scarrey, was found dead in an abandoned coal mine on the Summitville road, about a mile north of here, authorities reported today.

Her son, William, and her daughter, Mrs. Edna Hertel, members of a searching party, discovered the body, with the head lying in a shallow pool of water about four feet from the mine entrance. Mrs. Scarrey's forehead and nose were lacerated, evidently when she fell.

Mrs. Scarrey, who had been in ill health, was believed to have stepped at the mine to rest after walking a quarter of a mile from her home.

Coroner Arnold W. Devon of East Liverpool ruled accidental death after an inquest.

COLUMBUS, June 19.—A new fight in the senate lay ahead of the controversial and drastic new bill to care for Ohio's needy today after its stormy but successful flight through the house.

Slightly modified by amendments to raise the family allowance scale from $8-$12 to $9-$12, and still appropriate $6,500,000, the bill passed the house late yesterday, 94 to 17, and went to the senate. The upper body will convene Monday night and is expected to send the bill to a committee for a least partial rewriting.

Amendment Fails

An amendment to add $2,000,000 to its appropriation failed when rural Democrats and Republicans withstood the best efforts of urban Democrats and the pleas of welfare leaders, the latter contending the family allowances were on a "starvation" scale.

The relief bill, through the unsuccessful $2,000,000 amendment, became embroiled in renewed controversy over Gov. Martin L. Davey's proposal to exempt food purchased for home consumption from the three per cent retail sales tax.

When Rep. John T. De Righter (D-Cuyahoga) introduced the amendment, Republican Leader William M. McCulloch asked if the funds would be available and if approval of Davey's proposal would reduce them.

PROPOSE PLANK
ON MUNITIONS
FOR DEMOCRATSSenate Members to Urge Nationalization Of

PLANS DEBATEDParty's Advance Guard In Philadelphia For
Convention(By Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—Flag-draped Philadelphia extended the hand of welcome to the advance guard of Democrats today while speculation over the platform to be adopted by the party's national convention next week intensified.

Senator Bone (D-Wash.), a member of the senate munitions committee, announced today he would fight to have the Democratic platform include planks advocating nationalization of warship building and some arms manufacture and the enactment of permanent neutrality legislation.

He declared his action had the approval of Chairman Nye (R-ND) and Senator Clark (D-Mo.).

Government Monopoly

His munitions plank, tentatively worded, would call for "such nationalization as will give the government a monopoly in fabricating war munitions and instrumentalities into their final form for combat purposes."

He made clear this would include naval vessels, arms and ammunition used by the army and navy and would apply during peace as well as war.

Leaders of the New Deal were closeted in Washington, drawing up suggested statements of policy on such controversial issues as farm aid, money, and relief.

There was no authoritative indication as to the planks to be submitted on some of these issues, but word from the Capital said Secretary Wallace may seek to have the convention's resolutions committee approve a farm plank embracing four features.

The plank would endorse:
The present AAA soil conservation program with subsidy payments to farmers.

The principle of crop production control within constitutional limits.

The present reciprocal trade agreement policy.

Some plan for commodity loans to farmers.

Committee Action Doubtful

The question in the minds of some administration leaders, it was reported, is whether the resolutions committee will approve the suggestions advanced by Wallace and his aides.

The question was raised, it was said, because some leading Democratic members of congress have opposed crop control and other AAA measures.

While the four principal features were expected to comprise the bulk of the administration's farm plank suggestions, it was indicated that aid to co-operative associations also would be suggested. The plank also is expected to urge continued research into industrial uses for farm products.

Governor Talmadge of Georgia, who had planned to attend the Democratic convention, has changed his mind and cancelled hotel reservations.

Starting Monday, he will give instruction in swimming and life saving at the lake. His teaching hours will be from 8:30 a. m. until 12 noon.

Parents interested in giving their children swimming lessons, or swimmers who wish to receive life saving instruction, may contact Papesch at the club or by phoning 508-W.

Salvation Army's Leaders Honored

Envoy and Mrs. Clarence Steed of the local Salvation Army, who will leave soon for a ten-months' intensive course of study at an eastern college, will be honored by Salem churches at a union service Sunday evening in the Methodist church.

Envoy and Mrs. Steed have been selected for the course in recognition of their outstanding work in the Army.

Captain H. Bennett and a group of members of the Alliance corps, with a 32-piece band, will have a part in the service, which will be in charge of the Salem Army.

Rev. R. D. Walter, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will have charge of the musical portion of the program and will open the service at 7:30 with prayer.

Captain Bennett is scheduled to speak and a talk will be heard by Charles McCormick, member of the advisory board. Rev. A. C. Westphal will have the benediction. Music during the service will include selections by the Alliance band.

Beveling Taxable

COLUMBUS, June 19.—R. P. Bartholow, sales tax division chief, ruled today that charges for beveling glass are subject to the state sales tax because the operation is not a service but a part of the manufacturing process.

Bartholow, who based his ruling on a decision by the division's legal department, said the tax was collectable on the price of the finished article.

While rumors persisted that "everything was set but the date" regarding the current romance of Carol Lombard and Clark Gable, above, the screen hero found himself involved in new difficulties with his estranged third wife. Reappoint Papesch
As Lifeguard For Country Club Lake

Announcement was made today by officials of the Salem Country club that Walter Papesch of 634 Franklin ave., Ohio State university student, has been reappointed as life guard at the club lake for the summer season.

Papesch, who served in this capacity at the club for the last two years, is a registered Red Cross life saving examiner and has had a year's experience as instructor in life saving methods at Ohio State. Thirty-three students passed senior life saving examinations under his tutelage during the last semester at the college.

Starting Monday, he will give instruction in swimming and life saving at the lake. His teaching hours will be from 8:30 a. m. until 12 noon.

Parents interested in giving their children swimming lessons, or swimmers who wish to receive life saving instruction, may contact Papesch at the club or by phoning 508-W.

After the plans have been checked at the division office at New Philadelphia they will be forwarded to the state office at Columbus, and then to the federal highway department at Washington.

Engineer Wheatley expects the plans to be approved in time for the July letting.

Wellsville Driver
Hurt In Accident

John Thompson of 383 Broadway, Wellsville, escaped with minor lacerations when he fell asleep while driving south on North Ellisworth ave., at 3:55 a. m. today and his automobile crashed into a tree on the east side of the street.

The front end of the machine was badly damaged. The accident occurred between Sixth and Seventh sts.

Members of the park commission reported to police today that a motorist evidently speeding in Centennial park last night, skidded on a turn in the roadway and crashed into a huge log on the lawn.

Loan Is Approved

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The rural electrification administration announced yesterday approval of a $30,000 loan to the Pioneer Electric Co-operative, Inc., of Columbus, signaling the start of a program to finance farmstead wiring installations. Relending arrangements permit farmers to have their homes wired by paying 20 per cent in cash and the rest in semi-annual payments.

Other than to build rural distribution lines, the REA said this was the first loan made for any purpose. It will be repaid in semi-annual payments with three per cent annual interest on the unpaid balance.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—A newly shaped tax plan designed to raise $800,000,000 through penalty taxes on undivided corporation profits and other major revisions of the revenue structure aroused emphatic dissent among some senators today but administration leaders said it would go through congress Saturday night.

They expected that President Roosevelt would welcome the plan, which was agreed upon in a senate-house conference committee last night. It goes far to meet his demands for stiff taxes to induce corporations to distribute more income to stockholders and for additional taxation on dividends.

Await Ratification

The conference agreement must now be ratified by both chambers. It is generally expected to encounter no serious trouble in the house, but some senate foes of the bill went so far today as to say privately that nearly half of the membership of that body already had determined to vote against it. No filibuster was predicted, however, and administration leaders hoped to pass the bill in time to adjourn congress late Saturday night.

The bill, which represents a compromise between measures previously passed by senate and house, includes:

"Normal" taxes on all corporation net income, ranging from 8 per cent on the first $2,000 to 15 per cent on all over $40,000. (At present such taxes range from 12 1/2 to 15 per cent.)

New graduated taxes on undistributed corporation earnings, ranging from 7 per cent on the first 10 per cent of earnings retained, to 27 per cent on all earnings retained in excess of 60 per cent.

A provision giving special treatment to small corporations by applying the 7 per cent rate either to the first 10 per cent of undistributed earnings, or to $5,000 of such earnings, whichever is the larger.

A provision applying the normal individual income tax of 4 per cent, as well as income surtaxes, to dividends received by corporation stockholders. At present dividends are exempt from the 4 per cent tax.

A clause cutting the capital stock tax from $1.40 to $1 per $1,000 of stock, but continuing existing excess profits taxes.

A temporary, $82,000,000 "wind-fall" levy on persons described as "unjustly enriched" because they escaped paying the invalidated AAA's processing levies.

Farm Bureau Plans
District Meeting

Perry L. Green, president, and H. W. Smoots, supervisor of sales and promotion, of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, Columbus, will be the principal speakers at a district meeting of farm bureau officers and members from Columbiana, Mahoning, Portage and Stark counties, to be held at Alliance on June 24.

Plans for expansion of cooperative marketing and purchasing electrification, farm legislation and insurance, as well as a study of traffic safety and other educational problems of interest to farmers will occupy the attention of local farm bureau members at this meeting.

The gathering is one of 22 district meetings being held throughout Ohio for farm bureau members and friends during the month of June. Each farm bureau district is composed of four counties and is represented by a trustee elected from the district on the board of the state federation of county farm bureaus. R. E. Frederick, of Poland, trustee from this district, will be in charge of the Alliance meeting.

Banned In Beverage

COLUMBUS, June 19.—The state department of agriculture prohibited today the sale of fruit juice beverages containing artificial coloring.

In a departmental order, Director Earl H. Hanefeld said the use of artificial coloring "was operating to deceive consumers as to the identity of the beverages."

COLUMBUS, June 19.—The conservation council will hold open hearings in Columbus June 24 on the advisability of opening the Mt. Gilead lakes in Morrow county to fishing which has been prohibited there for several months.

IN THE DRIVER'S SEAT

In the old days of melodrama, the villain of the piece was the hard hearted creditor demanding payment of the mortgage and threatening to crush out the life of his helpless and virtuous victim. Strangely, a country nurtured on that uncharitable view of the money lender has been forced by war debts to play the role it despises.

But, naturally, virtue and evil have been reversed. It is the debtor now who sinfully is failing to meet his obligation, thereby causing the creditor no end of grief and rage. In fact, it seems plain that the debtor took an unfair advantage of Uncle Sam in the first place by borrowing the money and promising to pay interest on it.

Little or no progress has been made in thinking on the war debt issue. As the late Calvin Coolidge put it, "They hired the money didn't they?" The question is satisfying enough, but it is without any satisfactory answer. Nevertheless, the Republican party, whose platform pointedly rebukes the Roosevelt administration for not trying to collect the debts, apparently plans to reopen the matter for political purposes.

The war debts cannot be collected in their original amount. It is questionable if they can be collected in any more than a nominal amount. Partial collection, however, is the only possibility. Abroad, debtor governments have not yet closed their doors to suggestions of reduction. If the United States does not intend to cancel the debts, which would be next to impossible, due to political danger, it should keep the issue open and alive with persistent collection efforts on the most generous terms possible.

The debtors are in the driver's seat; the United States understands that part of the situation fully. The problem is not to turn the tables, but to make the best of a bad bargain. If the United States were to declare itself willing to accept repayment of principal, without interest, as expressed in dollars of current value, the present debt of more than 12 billion dollars would be reduced to approximately 3 billion dollars. Why not?

TWO WEEKS BEFORE

Celebration of Independence day on July 4 seems to require warmup and blowup prelude lasting approximately two weeks. Fireworks and cap pistols will be much in evidence between now and the big day.

The country has made great strides since the gay era when children were exposed wantonly to mutilation and tetanus. A lower rate of fatal and near-fatal accidents indicates something has been learned.

Nearly 4,300 celebrants have been killed and 96,360 injured as the result of fireworks accidents during the last 30 years. As late as 1934, 161 children and adults lost their lives during the warmup period before Independence day and the cooloff period afterward. Nearly half of them were helpless children under five years of age.

Death introduces itself in various ways. Mostly, it is the result of burns. Stray bullets and "unloaded guns" are important. In 1934, a score of children died as the result of eating fireworks, denied even the momentary thrill of hearing an explosion.

The next two weeks, in other words, are of special importance. Fireworks will be bought, sold and used in honor of the country's greatest political holiday. The population will be aware of danger, but helpless to insure safety in many cases—enough to warrant an expectancy of more than one hundred deaths before the celebration is over.

When it is considered that prohibition of the sale of fireworks to the general public is blocked by the public's own willingness to buy them, the failure of international movements to control the sale of more deadly war munitions is not quite so much of a mystery.

O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, June 19—Thoughts while strolling. What's become of all the colors we used to know—greens, browns and blues? For instance—the new summer shades: pigo, copper, henna, toasty willow. Add imperial looking ladies: Mrs. Jane Tibbett. For political oblivion—the fellow Zioncheck.

For the Look the Same as They Did 15 Years Ago Club: Harry Staton. How tacky the avenue grows! Babe Ruth has taken retirement with a becoming grace. Imagine England tolerating some of our crooked judges. Always a glamour about a Pullman porter. What became of Gandhi?

Title for a short story: "A Blind Date at 80." No matter how they twist the dime receiver on buses, conductors always hold it wrong. Those curious inspecting couples on the avenue after nightfall. Not rural window shoppers, but dress designers swiping ideas.

That angry desperate way women in hat shops jerk off the one they don't like. And never a farewell glance. No sound more soothing than the far-away click of wood on wood in a bowling alley. The next longest ear-rings in the world are worn by Izzy Haynes Irwin.

Mrs. Belloc-Lowndes sounds as though she might be made of jelly. And she's a ringer for Victoria.

The Times says Annabelle Lee is a must-know poem. It's the maudlinest ever written. Zzz he.

Fifth avenue's conservative merchants who are in the majority are becoming increasingly concerned over the fly-by-night racketeers who take over empty stores and give them a bannered blatzky that suggests the deep Bowery. Mostly they are "linen stores" and never are the names of the owners displayed. The customer has no recourse if dissatisfied. Anyway, they seldom remain more than a few weeks. Their windows display the high grade established article. But they are only for the windows—the stuff on sale is shoddy.

And Park avenue had a duck fit over the possibility of a movie house in an arcade planned for the fabulous 50's. Application for a license has been denied after round robins of protests were circulated among tenants in the surrounding buildings. Park avenue believes one movie like the speck in the barrel of apples means quick decay. It is already thinly flecked with vulgar trade.

Being a small property owner on Park avenue I am for that reason alone opposed to commercial invasion. But secretly I am for living over a store, next door to a movie or even a marathon dance hall. I never visit the lower East Side without a wince of envy for those placid, window-leaning figures above the shops. From the sidewalk there is generally visible a canary. And on the window ledge a white poodle several weeks in bath arrears. The battle-door and shuttlecock talk from window to window is always pitched in exciting tempo. Tots dash about in screaming play until midnight. No community living seems more fun. More of give and take. Everything external and child-like.

The push boys who weave in and out of the garment center traffic in the 30's with their roller truck scooters piled high with bundles and racked with gowns are the most nimble of death-defiers. Like a flash they can scoot through incredible spaces. Although they number in hundreds the mortality rate is almost nil. They are paid around $30 a week. And many of them have become big dress merchants.

Grantland Rice, aside from being one of the newspapermen with great earning capacity, is among the most popular. Aside from his syndicated newspaper column and editing a golf magazine, his film sport shorts are in high favor. Rice, Tennessee born, came to the old Evening Mail via Atlanta 25 years ago with a cherubic smile, ruddy cheeks and a southern accent which he has never lost. His hair has not been so loyal. His wife Kate is one of the notable beauties and a charming hostess. And their daughter Florence is not only a striking beauty but talented on screen and stage. She was an especial favorite of Ring Lardner and Percy Hammond, her parents' neighbors at Easthampton, L. I.

For Saturday, June 20

According to the auguries based on the prevailing planetary configurations, this day and its affairs may be much as individual effort and inclination make them.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year in which much depends on individual initiative and diligence. There is a predisposition toward intrigue and secret or singular activities, with the emotional nature spurred to peculiar adventures.

A child born on this day may have a very sensitive and emotional nature, with subtle or secretive urges, although fond of society, domestic and romantic life. It will lean to the novel, curious and visionary.

A Review of the Day's News

By Arthur Brisbane

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
IN RUSSIA, a total eclipse of the sun will occur tomorrow; twenty-five Russian, eleven foreign expeditions will collect data. The "path of totality", or complete darkness, will be a belt 100 miles wide, stretching from the Black Sea across the north Caucasus, over Lake Baikal to the Sea of Japan.

Observers will see the shadow of the moon racing along this path. Athletes will be interested to know that the shadow of the moon will move along this path at a speed of 884 yards a second, covering the total distance of 4,483 miles in 2 hours and 13 minutes.

AT SIGHT of an eclipse some semi-barbarous peoples probably still believe, as all men did once, that the earth is coming to an end, or that some demon has "swallowed" the sun.

Now every intelligent school child knows that an eclipse with the moon passing in front of the sun and shutting off its light from part of the earth is like some one passing between a reader and the lamp, turning off light from the book for a moment, not more dangerous, or important, except that it allows scientists to increase their knowledge.

Of all nature's phenomena, eclipses have impressed human beings more than any other except occasionally earthquakes, violent volcanic eruption and tornadoes.

BRILLIANT stars were supposed to appear in honor of important events. The Chinese recorded appearance of stars and comets when great men were born; the Romans had the same idea. A great blaze of light appeared to announce the birth of Aesculapius and various Caesars were honored in the same fashion.

According to Andrew D. White, one of the fourth chapter of his "History of the Warfare of Science with Theology in Christendom", a star appeared at the birth of Moses, and was seen by the Magi of Egypt, who informed the King; and when Abraham was born an unusual star appeared in the East.

Mohammedans had similar ideas and explained showers of shooting stars, which occur occasionally, calling them red hot missiles thrown by good angels to drive bad angels out of the sky.

Eclipses always caused alarm and indicated calamity. The Greeks believed that darkness spread over the earth when Alexander the Great died; Prometheus, Hercules and others were similarly honored, by earth-darkness, as when Romulus, one of the well known Roman twins, died, darkness lasted six hours.

Ancient Jewish tradition taught, according to Dr. White, that "darkness overspread the earth for three days when the Books of the Law were profaned by translation into Greek."

The ancient Jews looked upon the Hebrew language as "sacred". It was believed and taught by early Christians that Hebrew was the language spoken by God Himself and taught by Him to Adam, Malchizedek, one of the greatest Jewish scholars, was excommunicated by the great synagogue at Lisbon, because, translating Greek philosophy into Hebrew, he found a lack of Hebrew words to express abstract thought, and invented or created Hebrew words for the purpose. That was considered an insult to the Hebrew language.

Malchizedek, you will be glad to know, was not inconvenienced. He became personal physician to the ruler of Egypt, an enlightened man.

English tradition says that an eclipse expressing God's wrath spread over the country when Charles the First was beheaded. Our own earnest New England teacher, the Reverend Increase Smith, says in "an eclipse in Massachusetts an evidence of the grief of Nature at the death of President Chaucey, of Harvard college."

Today's president of Harvard, Dr. Eliot, would not assume any such grief on the part of Nature, although he probably knows a hundred times more than old President Chaucey knew.

Farley Inspects Convention Hall

James A. Farley

Final arrangements for the opening of the Democratic national convention in Philadelphia received the personal attention of Postmaster General James A. Farley, right, when he visited the huge Quaker City auditorium with H. L. Smith, architect in charge of construction.

eclipses died out in this country when an American statesman seeing "associates in the General Assembly alarmed by an eclipse of the sun, comparing it to the beginning of the Day of Judgment, quietly ordered in candles that he might be found doing his duty."

This proud country is probably the last calling itself "civilized" in which such superstition prevailed. Many centuries ago certain individuals knew better. The Chaldeans thought comets "wandering bodies as harmless as fishes in the sea."

Pythagoras, Greek philosopher, 2,500 years ago, looked on them correctly as "bodies returning at fixed periods"; Seneca, who taught Nero and was put to death for his pains, predicted comets "would be found to move in accordance with natural law." The intelligent Emperor Vespasian insisted that a comet appearing in his time "could not be taken his death, because it was hairy, and he bald."

For centuries preachers taught that every comet is "a ball of fire flung from the right hand of angry God to warn the grovelling dwellers of earth."

Nobody seems to have had his belief shaken by the fact that no comet ever hit anybody. More modern men lacked Vespasian's common sense; Galeazzo, Tyrant of Milan, on his deathbed was delighted to hear that a comet had appeared in his honor, and the great King Charles the Fifth, most powerful of kings, is believed to have been driven to abdicate his throne and enter a monastery through fear of the comet of 1556.

On another great occasion two armies had lined up for battle, and at a sudden darkening of the sun by an eclipse, turned their back on

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York City

NOT LONG ago I wrote about a new operation for gallstones. Since then many inquiries have been made concerning this procedure.

I did not mean to imply that this operation was to be used in all cases as a substitute for other methods of treatment. It was intended as an explanation of a method advised by several surgeons who specialize in this work.

Many write to inquire whether it is possible to be relieved of gallstones without operation. They hope some chemical or drug may dissolve these stones. Unfortunately, no medicine has as yet been perfected to dissolve gallstones.

There is no doubt that a great number of persons wisely reject the operation for gallstones. This surgical procedure is no longer regarded as serious. In the hands of a competent surgeon the operation is a simple one.

Cites Dangers

The great danger of gallstones is in their neglect. It is not safe to delay or to avoid a needed operation. Neglect leads to further infection and inflammation, and even rupture of the gall bladder. When these complications occur the dangers and complications of the operation are markedly increased. The patient is subjected to unnecessary risks.

For many years society has faced the problem of gallstones. Although the actual cause is not known many theories are presented. But it is generally believed that the stones primarily form as the result of some infection of the gall bladder.

Yet, despite this accepted theory, many operations are performed which reveal no evidence of infection. In such cases, perhaps, the stones form as a result of some vitamin deficiency. For this reason it is advised that the diet be chosen to include an abundance of vitamins and thus prevent stone formation.

I am often asked whether all cases of gallstones demand operation. This is a difficult question to answer. It depends entirely upon the individual case, including the size, location and number of stones, as well as the symptoms that are present.

ARE YOU ON THE BORDERLINE OF ACTUAL SICKNESS?

Constipation* Causes Discomfort, May Lead to More Serious Troubles

You may have days, perhaps even weeks, when you feel below par. Not sick enough to go to bed, but certainly not at your best. The trouble may be with your diet. Poorly balanced meals can affect your physical condition.

Meals which lack proper "bulk," for instance, may lead to common constipation. Continued neglect of this condition causes discomfort, may lead to headaches, poor appetite, listlessness.

Guard against common constipation. Make sure the meals you eat contain plenty of "bulk." Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a generous source of effective "bulk." Within the body, it absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, and gently cleanses the system.

Two tablespoonfuls daily, with milk or cream, are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN oftener. Serve ALL-BRAN either as a cereal, or cooked into muffins, breads, etc. Eat it regularly for regular habits.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

E. Liverpool Ohio River Territory Shares In Funds of War Department

EAST LIVERPOOL, June 19.—A $6,598,000 allotment of war department funds to the Pittsburgh district for repairs, dredging and operation of government property for the fiscal year, beginning July 1, featured river news of the upper valley this week.

Col. W. E. Covell of Pittsburgh, district engineer, said the sum included $2,444,000 for completion of the Montgomery island dam, final alterations to the Emsworth dam, and operation of locks and dams in river, as well as $80,000 for open channel dredging.

Repair Flood Damage

Other specified amounts were: $456,000 for repair of flood damage and maintenance of locks and dams on the Allegheny river, $500,000 for operation and care of locks and dams on the Monongahela river, $3,700,000 for relocation of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad tracks at Grafton, W. Va., to make way for the Tygart river reservoir, and $118,000 for examinations, surveys and other contingencies.

With completion of the Montgomery island dam east of Midland, Pa., government engineers tentatively plan construction of a similar structure across the Ohio river near Browns island and Steubenville. Engineers said it might eliminate three and possibly four movable dams in the vicinity.

25 Miles of Open Water

The proposed dam, which would provide open water for more than 25 miles, would be of the roller or lift type, permitting easier control of the water volume, creating a longer pool for boats, and improving locking facilities.

Two other so-called "super dams" have been proposed, one at Brilliant and other at Scotts Landing, but no definite action has been taken.

Flood control activity continued meanwhile, the tri-state authority outlining a three-point plan:

1. Federal authorization for starting work immediately on dam and reservoir construction in the headwaters of the Ohio, Allegheny and Monongahela rivers.
2. Inclusion of strong flood-control planks in national party platforms.
3. Permanent establishment of the United States flood control commission.

Theater Attractions

Paula Stone and Dick Foran, stars of the western, "Treachery Rides the Range" showing at the Grand Saturday and Sunday.

Sylvia Sidney and Spencer Tracy are seen together in the picture "Fury," showing at the State theater tonight and tomorrow. This forceful picture shows the violence of mob rule and the affect a gang of lynchers have on an innocent couple's lives.

Miss Sidney and Tracy portray two young people about to be married whose plans are wrecked when Tracy is arrested as a kidnap suspect. Men and women storm the jail, and when they are unable to get in to get Tracy, they set fire to it. He escapes, unknown to the mob, but feels he will never be happy again until he gets vengeance against the lynchers. He only finds happiness again when he forgives the men and women of the mob and marries Miss Sidney.

The Grand theater offers for Saturday and Sunday a drama of the old west, starring Dick Foran, the singing cowboy. This is a story of the last century when the Indians were on the warpath.

The drama concerns the plot of a band of white traders who murder the son of a Cheyenne chief so that the Indians will attack, thus keeping American troops of Fort Douglas too busy to notice what the traders are doing.

Dick Foran plays the captain of the scouts. Paula Stone, lovely daughter of Fred Stone, has the feminine lead. She plays the daughter of the colonel of the fort, who is captured by the white traders, recaptured by the Indians and rescued by Foran.

Foran sings several western songs of the plains, written especially for the star by Jerome and Scholl. Don Barclay, former Ziegfeld comedian, supplies much of the comedy. Monte Blue, silent picture star, and Jim Thorpe, famous Indian athlete, play the colonel of the fort and chief of the Indian tribe, respectively.

APSADENA, Cal.—Where most people try to dodge electrical currents, a Pasadena man was fined $55 and given a two year suspended jail sentence for stealing one. The particular current stolen came from a power cable and was used for power purposes.

SALEM, Ore.—Gov. Charles H. Martin, a retired major-general himself, proposed organization of a committee to invite retired army and navy officers to make their homes in Oregon instead of California, where the majority now go.

First Half of Class A Softball League Schedule Nearing End

Mullins Foremen Loom As Half Champion; Gain 10th Win In Contest Last Night

Defeat Trades Class, 14-7, In Only Class A Game; Elks Forfeit to Hardware; Columbians Win Second Straight Game in "B" League

Only a week and two days away from the end of the first half of the Class A softball season and there's not much chance of any of the teams putting the skids under the championship possibilities of Mullins.

Surprisingly, the Foremen, who recorded their tenth victory by defeating the Trades Class, 14-7, in the only Class A game at Centennial park last night, are not the heaviest hitting aggregation in the senior circuit.

Team batting averages, announced today by Joe Kelley, give clouting honors to the Elks, second division club, with the Salem Chinas close behind and the Foremen trailing in third position.

Not considered to have exceptional pitching, there is only one answer to the Foremen's ability to win. They make their hits count.

Against the Trades Class last night, the Foremen hammered out 11 hits and converted these into 14 runs, scored in the first, third and fifth innings.

Eight of their runs were scored in the first frame.

Barl McNamee, who went the full route on the mound for the Foremen, made it his sixth pitching victory of the season. McNamee allowed the Trades batsmen eight hits and three runs.

Although Bill Miller, Trades pitcher, was not at his best, his team gave him poor support, making six crucial errors.

The other Class A contest scheduled for last night between the Elks and the Salem Hardware was forfeited by the Elks.

Columbians Win
In the Class B circuit, the Columbians, who have been desperately attempting to move out of the second division since early in the season, appeared to have hit their stride as they registered their second straight victory over the Presbyterians, 13-4.

The Columbians scored their 13 runs in the second, fourth, fifth and sixth innings on the like number of hits taken from Pitcher Tom Herron of the Presbyterians. Fisher was in the box for the Columbians throughout the contest.

With Bill Pauline, former Class A pitcher, on the mound the Emmanuels shut out the Christians, 7-0, in the other junior league game last night. Pauline allowed only one hit.

The Emmanuels scored in the first, second, fifth and sixth innings on five hits and the assistance of the Christians' eight errors.

Kovash of the Emmanuels hammered out a home run during the contest.

Herron and Thomas alternated on the mound for the Christians.

HALT NET FISHING
COLUMBUS, June 19.—Conservation Commissioner Lawrence Modell said today that Pennsylvania planned to discontinue trap fishing after this year and "unlike Ohio fishermen decide to put undersized fish this state will be faced with the necessity of either making all trap nets illegal or destroying the blue pike entirely."

STARS PERFORM IN MEET TODAY

National Collegiate A. A. Competition Attracts Best In Nation

CHICAGO, June 19.—The greatest field in the event's 14-year history, filled with names which may enter Olympic record books this summer, opens the 1936 national Collegiate A. A. track and field meet at the University of Chicago's Stagg field today.

Ring down the curtain on the varsity season, the meet is designated as a semi-final Olympic team tryout, with first and second place winners, in addition to other noteworthy performers, qualified for the final international games tryouts in New York July 10-11.

Jesse Owens, the "ebony flash" from Ohio State, will be defending four championships, the 100 and 200 meter dashes, the 220-yard low hurdles and the broad jump. Indiana's willow Don Lash, who last week ran the two miles in 8:58.3, faster than it ever had been run outdoors before and the nation's greatest Olympic distance hope, Archie Williams of California, the new quarter mile sensation; Forest Towns, of Georgia, crack high hurdler; Chuck Beetham, Ohio State's half-mile star, are just a few of the aces who will perform.

Defends Title
PAINESVILLE, June 19.—Virginia Hollinger of Dayton made a successful start in defense of her title in the Mary K. Browne tennis tournament at Lake Erie college yesterday. Winner of the tournament in both 1934 and 1935, she defeated Leelyn Miller of Miami, 6-0, 6-3.

Monica Nolan of Cincinnati defeated Janie Kuhn of Wittenberg, 6-1, 4-6, 6-0, in another first round match.

Perfection in Scout Physique

HARVARD, YALE CREWS TO RACE

House-Boat Party Day On Thames As Historic Rivals Meet

(By Associated Press)
NEW LONDON, Conn., June 19.—This was house-boat party day on the Thames and the river was filled with beer cans, million dollar yachts and old grads as Harvard and Yale rowed the historic four miles from the railroad bridge to Bartlett's cove.

The Yale-Harvard boat race is one of the most inexplicable and yet one of the most colorful events on the sporting calendar. It is just another boat race between two mediocre crews but it draws over 60,000 persons who come from all over the world for the race and act in the most surprising way.

Harvard hasn't won a boat race this season, and Yale has won only one, but judging from the seriousness of the camps, you'd think the boys were rowing it off today for the Olympic championship. The freshmen crews were scheduled to start their two mile race at 9:00 (E. S. T.) this morning, and the Jayvee crews at 9:30. Then there is a long recess until 5:30 in the evening.

SAN FRANCISCO—The District Court of Appeals must decide whether fire can annul a law. A sentence for alleged drunkenness in a public place resulted in a writ of habeas corpus being filed on the grounds that the official records of the law passed in 1903, were burned in 1906 and hence the law no longer exists.

"BLIND TO LOVE" by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

SYNOPSIS

Young and beautiful Mary Shannon, secretary in the A. A. Healey Steamship Company, is broken-hearted when, socially prominent "Jamie" Todd, Jr., becomes engaged to Nesta Grainger, one of his own set. To add to Mary's sorrow, her Aunt Willie, brooding over a cruel prank her co-workers played on her, commits suicide. Then Mr. Shannon loses his position. Wealthy Aunt Mable comes to the rescue with an offer to set the family up on a chicken farm in Petaluma. Mary's parents move, but she remains in Oakland because of her work. She lives at Mrs. Henry's boarding house with a friend, Margot Patterson. Mary swore she would change her mode of living and did—no more timidity. She was going to get all she could out of life like Margot who considered it a waste of money to pay for your own entertainment. Milton Holden, an insurance broker, bald and fat, but a good dresser, comes to the boarding house. All the girls vie for his attention.

CHAPTER XIV

Mrs. Henry's "Room and Board for Young People" had turned out to be more popular with girls than young men. Young business girls, around Mary's age, flocked there, but the second floor, intended for young men (Mrs. Henry wasn't taking chances on mixing them up with helter-skelter, she said) usually had two or three vacant rooms. The only permanent men guests before Milton Holden came were

Timmy Weeks, who was too young to be taken seriously, and two nice young furniture clerks who "went with" two sisters who roomed with another girl in the very largest third floor room that was known as "the dormitory."

Unless one counted Mrs. Henry's son, Oscar, who tended the furnace and was a little queer—and nobody did.

Mrs. Henry's elder son, now married, occupied another double room on the second floor with his wife.

"As a matrimonial agency, the house has turned out to be a flop, and even as a social center, which was what I fondly took it for," Margot admitted shortly after Mary moved there. "But it's clean, it's cheap, the food is edible, though unexciting, and it's close in, so that's something."

Many a boat would have been missed nowadays if Mary were still living in the old house in Oakland. All her old philosophy about bosses was confirmed in Mr. Samson.

Say what you like about Bennett, and she had said plenty, he had been at least half way human. At least he had tended to business, and if he kept you late it was because he had been out drumming up freight for the line, and hadn't had time to dictate. Heaven only knew what Samson did with his time. He'd loaf all day, then begin a day's dictation at a quarter to five.

He was anything but pleasant about her friendship with his wife, too, especially since he'd found out they called each other Lalla and Mary. Of course, it had been Lalla's idea that they use first names.

Lalla said it was because Samson was jealous, and he was afraid that she'd meet other men through Mary.

It was the other way round, really. Mary had met several men through Lalla. They were all people Lalla had met at the hotel, and Margot, instead of being glad that Mary had lined up some of that cheap, free entertainment she was always talking about, was all against it.

"All right," she said. "I'll bite. Why are those wealthy, socially prominent, elderly—"

"Oh, they aren't as antique as all that—"

"So much the worse then—more dangerous. Why are those wealthy, socially prominent, middle-aged parties so keen on winning and dining a young woman with a husband, and a young stenographer without a husband? And why does it have to be when Samson is missing?"

"Because he wouldn't stand for it. He's jealous and he won't take her out himself for fear his mother will find out she's here. He told his mother she stayed in Seattle because she's nervous or sick or something and she hates Lalla—"

"Well, it sounds fishy to me. Heavens knows I'm no prude but you take my advice and stick to some nice amiable old fustie like Milton Holden," suggested Margot.

In spite of her own judgment, and her own faith in herself, Margot's croakings about Jackson Carter and his friends, Al Pankhurst, did spoil some of Mary's pleasure.

Why were they so anxious to promote a party for her and Lalla? They must know lots of other women! On the other hand, why shouldn't they? Lalla was attractive enough to take any man's attention, and now that she, Mary, had a little more experience and time to pick out her clothes, she was something of a knockout herself.

What's more, they were both good company—let Margot laugh at that if she liked! Lalla was the kind who simply glittered when she got all dressed up and had a good audience. Besides, they looked well together.

They were so different. Lalla with her dull golden hair that she did in soft, pinned up curls at the back of her neck, Mary with her short, dark hair curling back over her hair brim. The people in the lobby—men especially—always looked at them with interest when they came in together.

Still it worried her a little. It was all right to know men like Carter and Pankhurst, though Pankhurst, who liked Lalla so much, made no secret of the fact that he was married. It was the only way she was ever likely to see the inside of the Mark Hopkins and the Fairmont and the Palace at night. A girl has to take a few risks, in order to be invited out to dine and dance these days.

When she was at college, and knew a lot of younger fellows, it was different. Then a crowd would get together, and go over to one of the big hotels, and if there wasn't money enough in the crowd for anything but gingerale and the covercharge, it was all right.

Many's the time they had all come home on the auto ferry together, with very little over the fare and then they'd all pile into the boat restaurant and make the wait-ers furious by ordering coffee all around and just one order of doughnuts that they'd divide and pass around, giggling. Once they didn't have enough money for coffee for everyone, and she and Jamie had taken turns, drinking from the same cup.

Those were the days . . . when she had faith . . .

Now that faith was gone, it was different. She'd have to plan, to do the best she could, with what she had.

Sometimes she envied Margot her brains, her capacity for hard work. Margot worked like a slave, but she didn't care, because she made so much money. Right now she was toying with the idea of studying for the bar. The only thing that kept her back was that her boss said there were more bad lawyers than there were good stenographers and she was inclined to agree with him.

Mary couldn't even fake any enormous enthusiasm for work. Once in a while, under the influence of Bennett's enthusiasm, she had become sort of thrilled in booking freight for the line, in knowing that business was growing, and new ships were being chartered and bought. But there didn't seem to be much business any more, and, if Samson didn't care, why should she?

She wished she had a little more talent for something . . . or a little more beauty, or even a little less. When you're definitely plain, like Margot, you probably know that you can't depend on your looks to get you anywhere, and you learn the habit of working, young.

The trouble was, the folks had spoiled her. Everybody had spoiled her. She had been pushed ahead, given chances, flattered, made to think she was good, when she wasn't.

Take the music lessons, for instance. She never had the least bit of real feeling for the piano, and she knew it, even then. She was too lazy to read accurately, and she never kept good time in the bass. But because she memorized easily, and played with a sloppy bang and dash—"with expression", Ma always said—she was always chosen to play at school entertainments, and Ma was heartbroken when she gave it up.

G. O. P. Treasurer?

C. B. Goodspeed

C. B. Goodspeed of Chicago, assistant treasurer of the national Republican committee, is seen as likely successor to George Getz, also of Chicago, national party treasurer.

TOLEDO—A trust fund, founded in 1923, is to be used in 1973 to build a Masonic home for the Toledo area.

Otis Avery Browning established the $500,000 fund, which already has grown to nearly $1,000,000.

Twenty-one Masons form the directorate for the money, and a bank is the trustee.

GET COOL-STAY COOL-WITH TEA!

When it's in the sweltering 90's, and you're ready to drop from the heat and humidity, do what they do in the tropics. Turn to tea.

Allow 2 teaspoons of tea to each person. Infuse in tea pot as for hot tea. Place ice cubes in glass, pour on hot tea, adding sugar to taste. Flavor and garnish with lemon or mint, or both. In hot weather keep a pitcher of iced tea in the ice box. Make it the first thing in the morning and have it ready all day.

Cooling, vitalizing Teas come from INDIA, CEYLON, and JAVA-SUMATRA. Buy a good brand of Orange Pekoe, and look for any of these names on this map on package or in advertising.
